The Executive Council of the Diocese of Pennsylvania
after a careful and painstaking survey has approved the building of a Church Community House
at Morrisville, Penna.

The duty of raising funds and completing the project has been assigned to the Social Service Department of the Diocese
in co-operation with the Christian citizens of Morrisville and the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of the Church of the Incarnation of Morrisville

Why the Church is Supporting the Project

Morrisville is a rapidly growing industrial center opposite Trenton.

It is without a Community center and has no hall for public gatherings.

All Christian bodies in Morrisville concede the Episcopal Church is the strategic center and vital force around which the Christian influences can rally and render real Christian community service.

The Diocese has, for generations, maintained Social Service instruments in Philadelphia for Philadelphia.

This is the first time one of the other towns of the Diocese has sought Diocesan support for an institution for local service.

Pennsylvania is the first Diocese in the whole national Church to undertake this unique and original form of Christian Community Service.

All Christian bodies in Morrisville have agreed to co-operate in the movement.

It represents a fine measure of community co-operation und Christian leadership.

It will certainly result in adding strength and dignity to the Church's position in Morrisville.

It is sure to prove a valuable contribution to the morality, growth and stature of the town.

To be Property of Diocese

The building will cost approximately $25,000.

Title to be held by the Trustees of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Management to be vested in a Joint Board, with the Rector of the Church of the Incarnation, ex-officio Chairman.

Maintenance to be gradually assumed by agencies centering therein until it is self supporing.

Towards Beginning the Work

One of the laymen of the Church of the Incarnation has agreed to present the site.

The site comprises two centrally located lots, directly opposite the Church of the Incarnation and the Rectory.

The above layman volunteers to provide architects' plans for the building, free of charge, and oversight of the erection of the building at cost price.

❦

Community Needs it is Expected to Provide

A Large Central Auditorium

A Gymnasium A Free Library

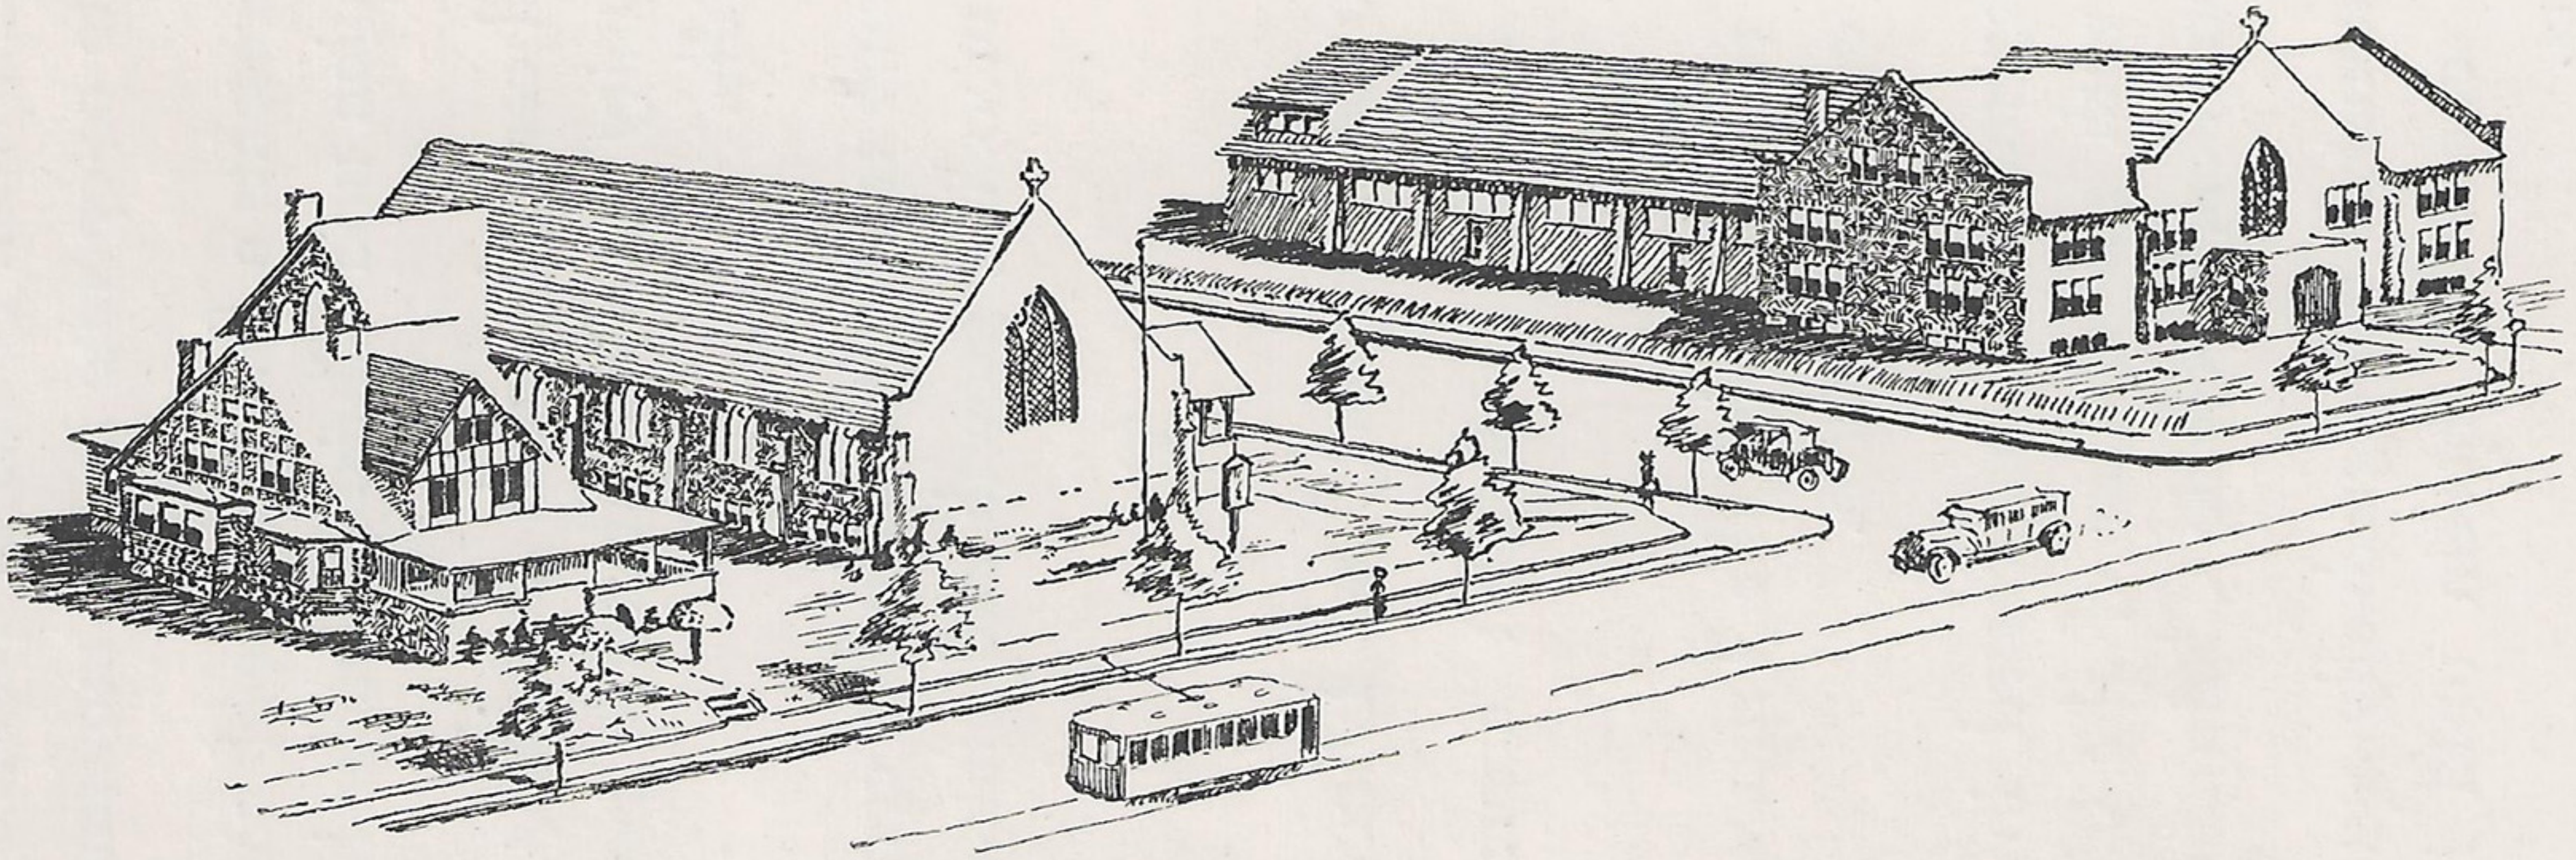
Visiting Nurses' Quarters

A Dispensary Red Cross Headquarters

Headquarters for Men's, Women's and Children's special activities.

Motion pictures under Christian supervision will be arranged for throughout the year and help in support of the institution.

❦



Rectoy Parish Church Church Community House

Lend a Hand, Please in this Forward Movement

The appeal for the $25,000 having been placed in the hands of the Social Service Department of the Diocese

That Department now asks that you consider this matter seriously as offering a peculiarly

Interesting and Unusual Opportunity for Service

Since its first suggestion, the project has won the interested approval of everyone who has considered it.

You are asked to make a special Contribution or pledge and forward the same in the enclosed envelope to

REYNOLDS D. BROWN
Executive Secretary of the Diocese
202 SOUTH 19th STREET
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

NOTE. All contributions and pledges will be credited to Parish quotas.